The seventeen volumes of the complete Diary text, and other books available from the Society

The Society has produced seventeen volumes of material from James Woodforde's diary. Much of it was omitted from John Beresford's edition of 1924–31 and its successors, and has thus not been previously published. Volumes 1–6, 8 and 9 contain the full diary entries jointly edited, with comprehensive notes, by Roy Winstanley and the Revd Peter Jameson. Volumes 7 and 10 are edited by Dr Heather Edwards, and Volumes 11–17 by Peter Jameson. They are A4 in size and card-bound. Earlier published volumes were in printed typescript; the later volumes are set in eighteenth-century Caslon.

All prices are quoted exclusive of post and packing. Prospective purchasers are invited to contact the Society for rates (details at the foot of the page). Payment can be by bank transfer (BACS) or by cheque. Mailing the Diary volumes overseas is likely to be expensive, as the books are heavy.

Prices as from March 2024 are given for members of the Society and for others:
